

REAL WEDDING
Rocky Mountains

"It is hard to pick my most favorite moment, but there was one in particular that just overwhelmed me with happiness. It was when Amr and I first took our seats at the sweetheart table. It was almost a slow-motion moment as I remember my eyes fell into his before they panned to the beautiful tablescapes and lush florals and the soft lights - before finally soaking in the big picture - the beauty of all my closest friends and family, every last one of whom had travelled from a different country, gathered together in one room to celebrate with us. I remember just taking a deep breath in and looking back over to him and feeling so incredibly blessed and undeserving. I never want to forget that very moment or that feeling"
